Activating ESPN Unlimited Through Your Pay-TV Provider

Customers with Hulu + Live TV, DIRECTV, Fubo TV, Comcast Xfinity, Spectrum TV, Verizon FiOS, U-verse, Cox, and other supported providers may already get ESPN Unlimited as part of their pay-TV package, with additional partners coming soon.

You will need to activate your ESPN plan and connect your MyDisney account, unless you are a Hulu + Live TV subscriber, in which case you should have immediate access to ESPN Unlimited when signed in with your MyDisney account.

To activate your ESPN plan or learn more, please see the instructions below.

Keep in mind that if you cancel or switch out of an eligible TV provider plan, your ESPN subscription will also be canceled in accordance with your provider's terms, conditions, and policies.

NOTE: If you have previously activated your entitlement and connected your MyDisney account, you will not need to activate again.
