

Coleridge's Bristol in the 1790's
Tom Mayberry and Graham Davidson
(Coleridge Bulletin, New Series 27, Summer 2006, 1-16)

This illustrated talk was given at a Kilve Study Weekend. A printable version was produced for the Coleridge Bulletin with the text set out as a commentary opposite 12 plates of colour illustration. These plates would require further copyright permission fees to be republished on the internet, and because the text is based on the illustrations, it serves no purpose to produce the text alone. So regrettably this article is not currently available online.
