RODEO COMMITTEE FOR 2004

WELCOME, RODEO FANS!

The St. George Lions Club 2004 Rodeo Committee is pleased and proud to bring you the best PRCA Rodeo and one of the oldest traditions around.

We have the great stock of Bar T, along with the best PRCA contestants, bullfighters and barrelmen.

We would like to thank the community and all the sponsors bringing you our historic 70th Annual Rodeo while you sit on these concrete steps and look around the arena that has been a part of this community for so many years. The Lions Members thank you for your continued support of this great event.

So go get some snacks, take a seat, get excited and have fun!

LET'S RODEO!

DANIEL D. McARTHUR
Mayor, St. George

It is indeed a pleasure for me as mayor of the City of St. George to welcome you to the Sunbowl for the St. George Lions' annual Dixie Round-Up! For those of you who are visiting our City for the first time, I hope you will have the opportunity to mingle with our friendly citizens and partake of the many recreational opportunities St. George has to offer. We also have many fine restaurants, first-rate shopping, and there are numerous nearby state and national parks to hike and explore.

St. George is proud of its pioneer heritage, and its legacy of volunteerism and community spirit. The Lions' Club has played a vital role in this legacy, and I would like to thank them for their involvement in our community and for the many charitable and social events which they sponsor for the betterment of our City.

Again, welcome to Utah's Dixie, and enjoy the show!

Jerry Tischner
Lion President

Welcome Rodeo fans, to the 70th Annual Dixie Roundup Rodeo! The St. George Lions Club is proud to have sponsored this Dixie tradition since 1934.

I am excited to be a part of the Lions Club and this year's Roundup. The Lions have worked hard to insure the best cowboys and the greatest stock in the business are here for this event. It's great to see this community gather at this time of year with family and friends for such a wonderful tradition.

Thanks to our sponsors and the City of St. George for their help and support, without which this event could be be possible.

Sit back, relax, and enjoy the show!

GRAND MARSHALL 2004 JIM LUNDBERG

The Grand Marshall for this years Lions Roundup Parade is Lion Jim Lundberg. Jim's association with the Lions Roundup goes back to the early 1940's when he worked for his brothers Neal and Loren, stocking and icing soda water in the stands behind the old grandstand that stood where the Neal Lundberg Baseball diamond is today. With the rest of the bottling company crew, he helped in the construction of the Dixie Sun Bowl, which was completed in 1947. Jim played in the first football game in the Sun Bowl that fall on Walt Brook's high school team.

After finishing college, Jim was invited to join the St. George Lions in 1952. He was elected President of the St. George Lions for St. George's Centennial Year of 1960-61. He also was Wagon Master for the "covered wagon" trek from Salt Lake City to St. George in the summer of 1961.

The Lions of Utah elected Jim as a District Governor for Southern Utah in 1963. He also served as a Director for Lions International for three years, 1966-1969. He and his wife, Ila Claire, traveled over 300,000 miles around the world for Lions during that 3-year span.

Jim and Ila have 4 children, 15 grandchildren and 2 1/2 great-grandchildren. Jim retired as a District Manager for Farmers Insurance Group in 2000 after 46 years in the business. He was one of the founders of Dixie State Bank and The American Bank of Commerce. He currently serves on the board of The Village Bank.

Jim flew his own airplanes for 46 years, and currently has a collection of antique autos, trucks and buses. He is a sports fan, loves to travel and is an ardent supporter of Dixie State College.

Tributes

VINCE P. GONZALES 1934 - 2004

Vince Gonzales was a member of the St. George Lions Club for many years. He served as Lion Tamer and enjoyed doing community service with all the Lion members. Vince was born in St. Johns, Arizona on January 21, 1934 and passed away from the effects of cancer on March 3, 2004 in the Dixie Regional Medical Center.

Vince worked in a uranium mine in Arizona, worked on the Hoover Dam project, and also on the Quail Lake Dam. He also served a short time in the U.S. Marine Corps. He came to Southern Utah in the early 1960's to work on Interstate 15 through the Virgin River Gorge as a track driller and powder man. When that project was complete, he went to work for a few years in Alaska on the oil pipeline. He then returned to St. George, where he married Hazel Wheat in October, 1975. This marriage brought together two children from each: Farrell, Alison, Billie, and Jeff, and has resulted in seven grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Vince's next job took him to Vernal, Utah where he was caught in a flash flood which resulted in his suffering a broken back and being forced into an early retirement. After healing from this injury, he volunteered his talents in auto mechanics and engine rebuilding at Dixie State College and enjoyed helping the students in these programs. He was a Nascar #94 fan of Bill Elliott.

Vince was an avid team roper, hunter and camper and enjoyed cutting and hauling wood. He loved his dogs Shenna, Willie, Doxie, Doxie Lo, and Rufus and they miss him as we all do. His latest love was his boat and fishing at Hell's Kitchen with his family and Lion Club members, especially Harry and Wuff.

CLARK EMPEY

1916 - 2004

Clark Empey, a St. George native, was an electrician by trade and a Lion at heart. He was known to many as "Doc" and was a Lion for over 60 years. He joined the St. George Lions Club shortly after they received their charter in November of 1934, and helped build the Sun Bowl, Skyline Drive, the Lions Pine Valley Lodge and all the other Lions projects all over the city.

Clark's son, Joe Empey, remembers the years when Clark was a member of the Lions Queen Committee. In those days the Lions had to go to the St. George or Santa Clara fields to chase horses for the Queen and Princess to ride. They would bathe and groom the horses and deliver them to the parades, the rodeo or wherever the royalty needed a horse. Joe can still see his dad rushing in the door, drenched in sweat, to shower, dress and run out again to ride in the parade or work at the rodeo.

Clark rode horseback in hundreds of parades with the Lions. He was always on a white horse. The Lions used to ride in the Washington County Fair Parade in Hurricane, the Iron County Fair Parade in Parowan, the Kane County Fair Parade in Kanab, and the Helderado Parade in Las Vegas, as well as the Dixie Roundup Parade.

Clark loved participating in the "Kangaroo Court" of Lions, stopping traffic at Main Street and St. George Boulevard for many years, and getting by with it, the week before the Dixie Roundup. Lions either sold a Dixie Roundup Badge or dunked the reluctant driver or pedestrian in the water tank. Clark will be long remembered and sorely missed.

DICK (H. RICHARD) MILES

Dick Miles was born in St. George in 1926 and lived and worked his entire life here until his death in May of 2004. He graduated from Washington County schools and left to serve the the Navy in 1944. He was assigned to the naval base at San Diego for the duration of WW II and this was the longest time he spent away from the hometown that he loved.

During high school and after returning from the Navy, Dick played both the drums and the trumpet in a dance band that traveled throughout the southern Utah area. He married Maurine Bentley in 1947 and over the next nine years they became the parents of three children, Rick, Kathryn (Sug), and Robert.

At the death of his father, Dick became the manager of the O.K. Market which grew to include the Dixie Market and Market Basket stores as well as a partnership with the Gubler family that operated Center Department Store. In 1970 Dick was one of the founding directors of Dixie State Bank, where he served until the bank was sold to First Security in 1993.

In the mid-1980's Dick became a realtor and was periodically his own best client. In 1951 he joined the Lions Club which began a 53 years relationship with some of "Washington County's Finest" that provided much joy and camaraderie in his life and much satisfaction as he and his fellow Lions worked on rodeos, parades and countless other civic projects.....and he had a great time doing it!

2004 DIXIE ROUNDUP QUEEN MORGAN RUSSELL

Morgan Russell is the 18-year old daughter of Randy and Debbie Russell of Brookside. She is currently attending North Texas University in Denton, Texas where she plans to pursue her bachelors degree in journalism with a focus in public relations. She graduated from Dixie High School in May with honors, where she played basketball and was the team captain her senior year. She played an active role in 4-H and FFA. She was Dixie's Chapter President in 2003, and a 4-H leader for six years. During the past summer she worked for a professional AQHA horse trainer, showing palomino Quarter horses. In July she had the opportunity to show at the Palomino Youth World Show in Tulsa, Oklahoma, along with four hundred other youth. Even though commuting back and forth between Texas and Utah has been hectic, she wouldn't trade any of her roundup experiences as Queen for all the yellow horses in Texas!!

"Before I enter the Sunbowl for my final Dixie Roundup Rodeo Queen experience, I would like to take the time to thank everyone who helped make my dreams come true.

Mom and Dad, I love you both more than words can ever describe!! You allowed your little girl to chase after crazy and impossible dreams and then help make them into reality! Thank you for your love, support, and for just being the great parents you are! Dad, thanks for understanding that it's not always about the amount of dollars involved, but the amount of the experience. And Mom, thanks for all the reassurance and love you showed me even when I was 1500 miles away. I know none of this was easy for either of you, but I admire and respect you now more than ever. Thank you for making me believe in myself by your believing in me first!

Thanks to Kari Theobald, Gai Bowler, Illa Burgess, Lainee Frei and Tammy Holyoak for putting on yet another great contest!! Without you I would not be representing this great rodeo! A very special thank you to Rita Brown for making me shine in beautiful clothes and especially making the clothes fit my personality. To the one and only Mark at Colorland Photo, you have been an incredible friend and photographer. Thank you for working around my schedule, and your consideration each and every time. To my princess Cailee Hall, I could not have asked for a better friend to experience this rodeo with. Thank you to you and your family for being so patient and understanding with me and my ideas. You have done one of the best jobs of supporting and promoting this rodeo as their princess. Thank you for your positive attitude, and for just "gettin' it done." And a very special thank you to Mary Houston at Saucer 5 Ranch for your friendship and the use of your awesome horse, GW.

Last but not least, thanks to the men and women of the Lions Club. All of you are exceptional. This town would not be what it is without your community support and love for the youth of today. You turn dreams into realities. I know because you certainly made mine come true!! I just want to let you know that all of you have touched my life in so many ways and that you will always hold a special place in my heart. The Rodeo Committee, Lee, Carl, and Bryce for your positive attitudes and occasional jokes kept me going and laughing. Thank you for the encouragement, laughs and friendships.

As one chapter of my life closes and a new one opens, I will cherish every moment of it from the joy and pain, to the chills and thrills, I feel very honored and privileged to represent not only the sport of rodeo, but also the Lions. I have had many memories and life changing experiences that people outside this industry only dream about. Thank you to all my friends and family for helping me achieve the impossible and for never giving up on me.

Finally, thank you to the fans. You are the ones who keep this rodeo a strong tradition of Southern Utah. With that, kick back and enjoy great rodeo action at the 70th Annual Lions Dixie Roundup!"

Cailee is the 15-year old daughter of Alan and Susie Hall of Diamond Valley. She is a sophomore at Dixie High School and a member of the Utah High School Rodeo Association, Dixie High FFA horse judging team, and an active member of 4-H horse and livestock, winning first place in showmanship and all-around high-point winner at Region in 2000 and 2001. She is a member of the National Honor Society and Who's Who among American High School Students.

"Becoming the Dixie Roundup Princess has been a dream and goal of mine ever since I was a little girl. My Grandpa Stewart would buy a section of seating at the Sunbowl to make sure we could enjoy the rodeo. We haven't missed one yet.

Thank you to the Lions for making this dream come true and making me feel like a part of their family. Without them we wouldn't have this wonderful rodeo. Thank you to the queen committee, Cari Theobald and Gai Bowler, for putting on an awesome contest and a night I will always remember. Rita Brown, now I know why you are such a big part of this rodeo -- all the outfits you make to help us look our best, and for encouraging me on.

Morgan, thank you for helping me out and showing me the ropes. They knew what they were doing in making you Queen. Thank you for your friendship. I can't express enough thanks to my family, cheering for me at rodeos and parades. Mom, for making sure everything is ready; Dad, for hauling me around to where I needed to be; and my brothers for filling in when Mom and Dad could not be there. Thank you again.

I hope the fans and contestants have a great and safe rodeo. Good luck to the contestants and enjoy the 70th annual Lion's Dixie Roundup!"

THE PRCA'S CIRCUIT SYSTEM

While some full-time rodeo cowboys bask in the glory of large arenas, most members of the Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association are circuit cowboys.

For the circuit cowboy, rodeo is something that follows a 40-hour work week. When the weekend hits, he loads up his horses or equipment and heads down the road, usually no more than a few hundred miles, to a PRCA rodeo.

That's not to say these competitors are any less serious about their sport than their marquee counterparts. But their families or professional obligations require them to stick close to home for most of the year.

In 1975, the PRCA recognized the need for an award system for these cowboys who might never qualify for the National Finals Rodeo.

To fill the void, the Association created the Circuit System, which is composed of 12 geographic regions encompassing as few as one state, such as Texas or Montana, to as many as 13 states, as in the Fires Frontier Circuit.

Every PRCA cowboy in the United States chooses a home circuit at the beginning of each year. If a cowboy fails to select a home circuit, the PRCA automatically assigns him to the circuit that corresponds to his home address.

Circuit System cowboys compete for points throughout the year; those points earned within their circuits count toward their place in the circuit and world standings. However, points accrued at rodeos outside their circuits count only toward world standings, not circuit standings.

Each circuit's top cowboys in each event qualify for one of the PRCA's most prestigious events.

The Dode National Circuit Finals Rodeo (DNCFR) is the crowning event of the PRCA's Circuit System. National circuit champions are determined at the event, which takes place each March in Pocatello, Idaho.

All PRCA cowboys are eligible to compete at the circuit level, and circuit-level cowboys are eligible to compete nationally. The DNCFR pits cowboys from throughout the country in the elimination-style format.

The DNCFR contestants all start out equal. During the four-day rodeo, contestants competed for nearly 450,000 and national circuit titles. Each year, ESPN 2 televises the final round of the DNCFR.

The BAR T RODEO INC., STOCK CONTRACTOR

The Bar T Rodeo Inc., was started in 1948, by D.A. (Swanny) Kerby when the Association was called RCA Rodeo Cowboys Association. Swanny along with his son Bud Kerby and their families have been in the Stock Contracting and Rodeo Producing Business ever since.

In 1995 Bud and his wife Evelyn bought out Swanny and Verda; however the Kerbys are still involved with the business as much as possible, allowing them to relax when they feel like it in their older age. The Kirby's have prided themselves on doing fast professional rodeos with the best bucking horses and bulls available for over 45 years. They have won numerous awards to show for their efforts, such as, the Top Bareback Horse in the World in 1976, Ol Alley Cat, the Third Best Saddle Bronc Horse in the World in 1988, R5 Deception, and the second Best Saddle Bronc horse in the World in 1991, Cl Copenhagen Sparrow. The Bar T has won several other awards, such as, the Third Best Saddle Bronc Horse at the NFR in 1989, R14 Skoal's Reception, and the Number One Saddle Bronc Horse at the NFR in 1990, Cl Copenhagen Sparrow. They have also won numerous other awards at the National Finals Rodeo, bring home many award buckles and thousands of dollars in top stock awards. In 1978 The Bar T Rodeo Company started their own bucking horse breeding program that has since proven to be very effective at producing top Bareback and Saddle bronc horses, many of which have gone to the NFR. The Bar T Rodeo Company has taken stock to the NFR since the very first one 33 Years ago in Dallas, Texas. They have been coming to St. George's Lions Dixie Round-Up for years. They also have participated in many other of the top PRCA Rodeos, such as The Denver Stock Show and Rodeo in Denver, Colorado, The Houston Live-Stock Show and Rodeo in Houston, and The Day's of '47 Rodeo, in Salt Lake City. The Bar T Rodeo Company Incorporated in 1989 to become The Bar T Rodeo Inc.

Miss Rodeo Utah 2004 Kaydee Nelson

Kaydee Nelson, Miss Rodeo Utah 2004-2005, was crowned July 24, 2004 after five days of competition. She is the 24-year old daughter of Robert and Judy Nelson of West Corinne, Utah. She is a graduate of Bridgerland Applied Technology College in Business Technology. In her free time, she enjoys rollerblading, playing volleyball, jet skiing, kickboxing, breakaway roping, watching Nascar, camping, barbecuing, and playing with her nephews. She also loves watching baseball, hockey, and arena football games.

Kaydee is proud to be a volunteer for the University of Utah Pediatric Burn Unit, and the Make-a-Wish Foundation of Utah. She is excited to have the opportunity to represent Utah, and compete for the Miss Rodeo American Title, November 28 through December 4 in Las Vegas, Nevada, and will hopefully bring the Miss Rodeo America crown back to the great state of Utah.

Think this is impressive?

Because of people like you,
Southern Utah Title is Celebrating
50 years of
“Doing Good Deeds.”
Now that’s impressive!
Thank You

St. George, Utah's own Kirk Bastian, better known as the Flagjumper, began his skydiving career in 1970. He has been on the PRCA Rodeo circuit since 1999. Patriotism inspired by the western flavor of red, white and blue is a natural for Kirk.

His obvious pride in our country, our Flag, and his heritage is evident in every display of the American Flag by parachute. After a short free fall from about 4,500 feet above the ground, Kirk deploys the main canopy. After he is sure that all is flying well, he lowers the American flag to fly behind him, and share this beautiful event with the spectators. This graceful "flying flag ballet" is choreographed to the music of our "National Anthem", Lee Greenwood's "God Bless the USA" or other patriotic favorites. After a soft landing in the center of the arena, the flag is quickly picked up and paid the respect it justly deserves.

Kirk is fortunate to share this amazing Giant American Flag at many rodeos, races, movies and outdoor sporting events.

With 8,000 jumps reflected in his resume, Kirk is a USPA licensed professional Skydiver and a member of SAG.

In Kirk's own words, "What could be more fitting in an opening ceremony than the public display of this great American tradition?" Watch for him and "Old Glory" at a special outdoor event soon.

LANDEE MUNNS

Rodeo Clown • Barrelman

Randee Munns has been clowning rodeos for over 20 years throughout the United States. He is from Garland, Utah, where he has a ranch and horse training operation. Randee is also a brand inspector for the state of Utah, as well as a vocational welding instructor for Bridgerland Area Vocational Center in Logan, Utah. Randee will bring several unique comedy acts, along with his expertise as a bullfighter and barrelman.

"The protector of cowboy, the entertainer of the crowd," so said a well-known sports commentator. He was referring, of course, to the rodeo clown. Rodeo clowns come in all shapes and sizes and all have to be top-notch athletes in peak physical condition. They have to be agile, quick, fearless, have the memory of a computer and an encyclopedia knowledge of bulls.

There are basically two types of clowns: the bull fighter and the barrelman. They both have serious jobs to do with a little flair of comedy thrown in. The bullfighter clowns are the track stars. They are out in the arena to distract the unpredictable bull from a downfallen cowboy. Pick-up men on horseback can't be used around the ill-tempered bulls.

The other type of rodeo clown is the barrelman. He uses himself and his barrel as a diversionary obstacle. He hauls a heavy, battered, reinforced metal barrel around, and folds himself inside like an accordion. Once inside the barrel, he awaits the blows of the irate bull and sometimes receives an unwelcome horn or hoof inside with him.

Miss Rodeo Nevada 2004 - SELENA ULCH

Selena is 20 years old and from Reno, Nevada. She is a full time honor student majoring in Biochemistry at the University of Nevada - Reno, with plans of attending dental school. Eventually Selena looks forward to operating her own practice, specializing in pediatric orthodontia.

Selena grew up in Susanville, California where her family owned and operated a fourth generation cattle ranch. She has six sisters who she claims are some of the toughest cowgirls in the West "because we had no brothers to help with chores." Her hobbies include ballet and jazz dancing, public speaking, community service, gold mining, outdoor sports and above all, training and showing American Quarter Horses.

"Having grown up in a family that has roots that run deep in the agriculture business, I have learned the genuine spirit and value of rodeo. This heritage makes it truly an honor to represent the Silver State as Miss Rodeo Nevada . . . both as an individual and as an American." Selena will represent the Silver State of Nevada at the 2005 Miss Rodeo America Pageant.

SADDLE BRONC RIDING

Saddle bronc riding is rodeo's classic event, both a complement and contrast to the wilder spectacles of bareback riding and bull riding.

Bronc riding requires strength to be sure, but the event also demands style, grace and precise timing.

Saddle bronc riding evolved from the task of breaking and training horses to work the cattle ranches of the Old West.

Many cowboys claim riding saddle broncs is the toughest rodeo event to master because of the technical skills necessary for success.

Every Move the bronc rider makes must be synchronized with the movement of the Horse. The cowboy's objective is a fluid ride, somewhat in contrast to the wilder and less-controlled rides of bareback riders.

Among the similarities shared by saddle bronc riding and bareback riding is the rule that riders in both events must mark out their horses on the first jump from the chute.

To properly mark out his horse, the saddle bronc rider must have both heels touching the animal above the point of its shoulders when it makes the first jump from the chute. If the rider misses his mark, he receives no score.

While a bareback rider has a rigging to hold onto, the saddle bronc rider has only a thick rein attached to his horse's halter. Using one hand, the cowboy tries to stay securely seated in his saddle. If he touches any part of the horse or his own body with the free hand, he is disqualified.

Judges score the horse's bucking action, the cowboy's control of the horse and the cowboy's spurring action. While striving to keep his toes turned outward, the rider spurs from the points of the horse's shoulders to the back of the saddle. To score well, the rider must maintain that action throughout the eight-second ride.

While the bucking ability of the horse is quite naturally built into the scoring system, a smooth, rhythmic ride is sure to score better than a wild, uncontrolled effort.

STEER WRESTLING

Speed and strength are the name of the game in steer wrestling. In fact, with a world record sitting at 2.4 seconds, steer wrestling is the quickest event in rodeo.

The objective of the steer wrestler, or "bulldogger," is to use strength and technique to wrestle a steer to the ground as quickly as possible.

That sounds simple enough.

But there's a catch: the steer generally weighs more than twice as much as the cowboy and, at the time the two come together, they're often traveling at 30 miles per hour.

Speed and precision, the two most important ingredients in steer wrestling, make bulldogging one of rodeo's most challenging events.

As with calf ropers and team ropers, the bulldogger starts on horseback in a box. A breakaway rope barrier is attached to the steer a head start that is determined by the size of the arena. When the steer reaches the advantage point, the barrier is released and the bulldogger takes off in pursuit. If the bulldogger breaks the barrier before the steer reaches the head start, a 10-second penalty is assessed.

In addition to strength, two other skills critical to success in steer wrestling are timing and balance.

When the cowboy reaches the steer, he slides down the right side of his galloping horse, hooks the right arm around the steer's right horn, grasps the left horn with his left hand and, using strength and leverage, slows the animal and wrestles it to the ground. His work isn't complete until the steer is on its side with all four feet pointing the same direction. But that's still not all there is to it.

In order to catch the sprinting steer, the cowboy uses a "hazer," another mounted cowboy who gallops his horse along the right side of the steer and keeps it from veering away from the bulldogger.

The efforts of the hazer can be as important as those of the steer wrestler. For that reason, and the fact a hazer sometimes supplies the bulldogger a horse, the hazer often receives a fourth of the payoff.

TEAM ROPING

Team roping, the only true team event in professional rodeo, requires close cooperation and timing between two highly skilled ropers - a header and a heeler.

The event originated on ranches when cowboys needed to treat or brand large steers and the task provided too difficult for one man.

The key to success? Hard work and endless practice. Team roping partners must perfect their timing, both as a team and with their horses.

Similar to calf ropers and steer wrestlers, team ropers start from the boxes of each side of the chute from which the steer enters the arena.

The steer gets a head start determined by the length of the arena.

One end of a breakaway barrier is attached to the steer then stretched across the open end of the header's box.

When the steer reaches its advantage point, the barrier is released and the header takes off in pursuit, with the heeler trailing slightly further behind. If the header breaks the barrier before the steer completes its head start, the ropers are assessed a 10-second penalty. Some rodeos use heeler barriers, too.

The header ropes first and must make one of three legal catches on the steer - around both horns, around one horn and the head, or around the neck. Any other catch by the header is considered illegal and the team is disqualified.

After the header makes his catch, he turns the steer to the left and exposes the steer's hind legs to the heeler. The heeler then attempts to rope both hind legs. If he catches only one foot, the team is assessed a five-second penalty.

After the cowboys catch the steer, the clock is stopped when there is no slac in their ropes and their horses face one another.

Another aspect vital to the event is the type of horses used by the ropers. The American Quarter Horse is the most popular among all timed-event competitors, particularly team ropers. Heading horses generally are taller and heavier because they need the power to turn the steer after

BAREBACK RIDING

Bareback riding is a tough way to make a living!

It's a difficult event to do correctly, and, even when you do, you can expect to be punished.

Most cowboys agree that bareback riding is the most physically demanding event in rodeo taking an immense toll on the cowboy's body.

Muscles are stretched to the limit, joints are pulled and pounded mercilessly, and ligaments are strained and frequently rearranged. The strength of bareback broncs is exceptional, and challenging them is often costly.

Bareback riders endure more abuse, suffer more injuries and carry away more long-term damage than all other rodeo cowboys.

To stay aboard the horse, a bareback rider uses a rigging made of leather and constructed to meet PRCA safety specifications. The rigging, which resembles a suitcase handle on a strap, is placed atop the horse's withers and secured with a cinch.

As the bronc and rider burst from the chute, the rider has to "mark out" his horse. In other words, he must have both spurs touching the horse's shoulders until the horse's feet hit the ground after its initial move from the chute. If the cowboy fails to do this he is disqualified.

As the bronc bucks, the rider pulls his knees up, dragging his spurs up the horse's shoulders. As the horse descends, the cowboy straightens his legs, returning his spurs over the point of the horse's shoulders in anticipation of the next jump.

But it takes more than sheer strength to make a qualified ride and earn a money-winning score. A bareback rider is judged on his spurring technique, the degree to which his toes remain turned out while he is spurring and his "exposure," or willingness to take whatever might come during his ride.

It's a tough way to make a living, all right. But, according to bareback riders, it's the cowboy way.

TIE-DOWN ROPING

As with saddle bronc riding and team roping, the roots of calf roping can be traced back to the working ranches of the Old West.

When calves were sick or injured, cowboys had to rope and immobilize them quickly for veterinary treatment. Ranch hands prided themselves on the speed with which they could rope and tie calves, and they soon turned their work into informal contests.

As the sport matured, being a good horseman and a fast sprinter became as important to the competitive calf roper as being quick and accurate with a rope.

In modern rodeo, the mounted cowboy starts from a box, a three-sided fenced area adjacent to the chute holding the calf. The fourth side of the box opens into the arena. The calf receives a head start that is determined by the length of the arena. One end of a brakeway rope barrier is looped around the calf's neck and stretched across the open end of the box. When the calf reaches its advantage point, the barrier is released. If the roper breaks the barrier before the calf reaches its head start, the cowboy is assessed a 10-second penalty.

The horse is trained to come to a stop as soon as the cowboy throws his loop and catches the calf. The cowboy then dismounts, sprints to his catch and throws it by hand, a maneuver called flanking. If the calf is not standing when the cowboy reaches it, he must allow the calf to get back on its feet, then flank it. After the calf is flanked, the roper ties any three legs together with a pigging string - a short, looped rope he clenches in his teeth during the run.

While the contestant is accomplishing all of that, his horse must pull back hard enough to eliminate any slack in the rope, but not so hard as to drag the calf.

When the roper finishes tying the calf, he throws his hands in the air as a signal that the run is completed. The roper then mounts his horse, rides forward to create slack in the rope, then waits six seconds to see if the calf remains tied. If the calf kicks free, the roper receives no time.

BULL RIDING

Rodeo competition, in the beginning, was a natural extension of the daily challenges cowboys confronted on the ranch- roping calves and breaking broncs to be ridden.

But intentionally climbing on the back of a 2000 pound bull? There is nothing natural about that. Most people, in fact, consider that a fool-hearted act.

The risks are obvious. Serious injury is always a possibility for those fearless enough to sit astride an animal that weighs a tone and is usually equipped with dangerous horns.

But cowboys do it, fans love it and bull riding ranks as one of rodeo's most popular events.

Bull riding is dangerous and predictably exciting, demanding intense physical prowess, supreme mental toughness and courage.

Like bareback and saddle bronc riders, the bull rider may use only one hand to stay aboard during the eight-second ride. If he touches the bull or himself with his free hand, he receives no score. But unlike the other roughstock events, bull riders are not required to mark out their animals. While spurring a bull can add to the cowboy's score, riders are commonly judged on their ability to stay aboard the twisting, bucking mass of muscle.

Balance, flexibility, coordination, quick reflexes and, perhaps above all, a good mental attitude are the stuff good bull rider are made of.

To stay aboard the bull, a rider uses a flat braided rope, which is wrapped around the bull's chest just behind the front legs and over its withers. One end of the bull rope, called the tail, is threaded through a loop on the other end and tightened around the bull. The rider then wraps the tail around his hand, sometimes weaving it through his fingers to further secure his grip.

Then he nods his head, the chute gate swings open and he and the bull explode into the arena.

Every bull is unique in its bucking habits. A bull may dart to the left, then to the right, then rear back. Some spin, or continuously circle in one spot in the arena. Others add jumps or kicks to their spins, while others might jump and kick in a straight line, or move side to side while bucking.
