RODEO COMMITTEE FOR 2006

WELCOME, RODEO FANS!

The St. George Lions 2006 Rodeo Committee welcomes you to the 72nd Annual Rodeo at the historic Dixie Sunbowl. This is one of the country's last great town center rodeo events.

We pride ourselves on the great Bar T rodeo stock, clown bull fighters and PRCA contestants.

The St. George Lions Club and the St. George community thank you for your continued support. Remember, all of your support money goes back into your St. George community.

Thank you again and have a great time at the rodeo.

YeeHaw!!

DANIEL D. McARTHUR
Mayor, St. George

It is indeed a pleasure for me as mayor of the City of St. George to welcome you to the Sunbowl for the St. George Lions' annual Dixie Round-Up! For those of you who are visiting our City for the first time, I hope you will have the opportunity to mingle with our friendly citizens and partake of the many recreational opportunities St. George has to offer. We also have many fine restaurants, first-rate shopping, and there are numerous nearby state and national parks to hike and explore.

St. George is proud of its pioneer heritage, and its legacy of volunteerism and community spirit. The Lions' Club has played a vital role in this legacy, and I would like to thank them for their involvement in our community and for the many charitable and social events which they sponsor for the betterment of our City.

Again, welcome to Utah's Dixie, and enjoy the show!

KENNY THOMPSON
Lion President

As President of the St. George Lions Club and on behalf of the membership, we welcome all of you out to the 72nd Annual Dixie Roundup and Rodeo. We are honored and proud to be able to keep this tradition alive.

It is a humbling experience to be a part of an organization that can present the outstanding activities we have prepared for this year's Roundup in the Sunbowl. With the Concert, Rodeo, and Sponsors, we hope you enjoy these events. The funds raised will assist with the numerous charities and community activities we support. We help the youth of today to realize their dreams and become the leaders of tomorrow.

We have worked hard to ensure the best cowboys and the greatest stock in the business are here for your entertainment and enjoyment. Thanks again to our many sponsors, the City of St. George, and you, the fans, for making this tradition a success. Get comfortable and enjoy the show!

Welcome

Home!

and your successful mission.

We recognize and appreciate the sacrifice you and your families made to our Great Nation to keep our traditions alive.

THANK YOU!!

Harry Lundin

Harry Lundin was born in Fremont, Nebraska. His family moved to St. George in 1942 when they were converted to the Mormon Church by missionaries living in their upstairs apartment. He is married to Lou Jean Atkin and they have 5 children, 21 grandchildren and 21 great-grandchildren. Harry was an outstanding athlete at Dixie High School and was the quarterback on the state championship team in 1942. He drove trucks for many years before starting Dixie Diesel Service which has been in business for 50 years.

There is never a dull moment at the Lundin house! Famous for pranks and always having a joke to tell, many will remember Harry as one of the hilarious "End Men" in the Lions Minstrel Show. Harry has had many hobbies over the years, from restoring old vehicles to raising quarter horses, having an ostrich farm to collecting coins and rocks and is an avid arrowhead designer. Don't be surprised to see him riding around the country on one of his many four-wheelers. He is an avid hunter and has been known to shoot a peanut out of the air with a 22. He loves to fish and has spend many years winding down at Hell's Kitchen. Harry once bet a friend who was living in New York that if he sent him a letter addressed simply "Harry, Dixie, Utah" it would get to him , , , and, of course, it did.

Harry as been a volunteer fireman for 38 years and a member of the Lions Club for 44 years. His leadership skills shone as he served as Rodeo Chairman in 1970 and 1971, several years as Fire Chief and 15 years as Assistant Fire Chief.

Harry is the type of guy that would do anything for anyone. He's always looking out for the underdog. At 78, Harry still gets up and goes to work every day. He walks a mile in the morning and a mile at night. Keeping up with Harry is quite a feat!

TRIBUTE

DOYLE SAMPSON

Doyle Sampson was a member of the St. George Lions Club for 54 years. He passed away December 14, 2005. He served at the Dixie Roundup for many years as an usher on the South side of the arena. Doyle served the Lions Club and his community with loyalty, dignity and love. He served as President, District Governor, and Secretary and held most of the positions the Club offers. He was the chairman for the rebuilding of Roene DiFores house after it was destroyed by fire, head man in the race paddocks for years, Parade Chairman, and served on the Rodeo Committee as well as being a past member of the Lions Garden Club.

Doyle was a World War II veteran and served with the 115 Engineers in England. He went into France on Utah Beach with the invasion of Normandy. He served his community as President of the Chamber of Commerce, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and was one of the developers of the Hawthorne Company. He and his son Sam established ERA Real Estate Company and he helped organize and build three banks in the area. At the time of his death, he was a Director of the Sun First Bank and a Director of Dixie Development.

He and his wife, Edna Mae, have three children, seven grandchildren and eighteen great-grandchildren. Doyle loved the Lions Club and was a faithful and respected member of the St. George Community.

2006 DIXIE ROUNDUP QUEEN STEPHANIE BRACKEN

Stephanie is the twenty-year old daughter of Les and Liz Bracken. She is a Junior at Dixie State College, with plans to earn her Bachelor Degree in Nursing. She also serves a part of the Ambassador Organization and helps with recruiting for the college. Stephanie served as Student Body President of Box Elder High School and competed in high school rodeo. Besides riding horses and attending rodeos, Stephanie enjoys croquet, hunting, swimming, and reading.

"I am so grateful for the opportunity to be the Lions Dixie Roundup Queen. It has been a wonderful experience. I would like to thank my Aunt Georgette and Uncle Neal for all the support, love and patience it has taken to transform me into a "Rodeo Queen!" Without them, I never would have had this great experience. I would also like to thank the Lions Club for being to welcoming and for continuing this great St. George Rodeo tradition, and especially the Rodeo Committee of Bryce Christensen, Brad Marshall and Wayne Hoppal. A big thank you goes to Natalie Drake, our queen director, and her committee for their hard work in planning the pageant and their continued support and guidance since its completion. I would also like to thank Linda Kent from the About Face Salon and Day Spa for helping me with my makeup and adding that hint of glamour every girl needs. Thank you, Rita Brown, for your terrific skill as a seamstress and designer. Special thanks go to Dacia Clark and Amanda Kent for their vast wardrobes and bottomless closets. Thank you, Mark Breinholt from Colorland Photo, for your time and talent, and the great photographs of Ciara and me. Ciara, thank you for being such a wonderful princess. I have truly loved getting to know you and being your friend.

I have an incredible family. Thanks, Mom and Dad, for all the love and support you have given me in all that I do. Thank you to my grandparents, LaVar and Leah Bracken, and Bob and Roma Horlacher, for all your love. A huge thanks to Heather, for being more like a sister than a friend. Thanks to Tracy, Garrett, Jordan, and Lexi for not only being siblings, but some of my best friends. Thanks to all my aunts, uncles, and cousins for your support.

Best of luck to all the rodeo contestants! And last of all, thank you rodeo fans for your continuing support of the Lions Club and the sport of rodeo. I hope you enjoy the 72nd annual Lions Dixie Roundup! Let's Rodeo!"

Rules to Ensure the Humane Treatment of Rodeo Livestock

1. No locked rowels, rowels that will lock on spurs or sharpened spurs may be used on bareback horses or saddle broncs.
2. Wooden paddles are not to be used by any PRCA member to beat or intimidate animals.
3. In calf roping, calves may not intentionally be flipped backward. Contestant must adjust rope and reins in such a manner that will prevent horse from dragging calf. The rope is to be removed from calf's body as soon as possible after "tie" is completed. Roping calves shall weigh at least 250 pounds each, and be strong and healthy.
4. Placing fingers in the eyes, lips or nose of steer while wrestling same is forbidden.
5. Animals for all events will be inspected before being selected for competition, and no sore, lame, sick or injured animal, or animal with defective eyesight, shall be permitted in the "draw" at any time. Should an animal become sick or be injured between the time it is drawn and the time it is scheduled to be used in competition, that animal shall not be used in competition and another animal will be drawn for the contestant as provided in the PRCA rule book. A veterinarian shall be present or on call for every performance and/or section of slack. Failure to do so shall result in a fine to the rodeo committee of $100 per performance.
6. No animal shall be beaten or cruelly prodded. Standard electric prods shall be used as little as possible. Animal shall be touched only on the hip or shoulder area with prod.
7. A conveyance must be available and used, if possible, to remove animals from arena in case of injury. Injured calves shall be removed from the arena in a pickup truck or calf stretcher.
8. No sharp or cutting objects shall be permitted in cinch, saddle girth, or flank straps. Only sheepskin-lined flank straps shall be used on bucking stock, and flank straps shall be of the quick-release type.

CIARA SORENSEN 2006 Dixie Roundup Princess

Ciara is the 15 year old daughter of Russell and Carol Sorensen of Diamond Valley. Ciara has been attending the Lion's Dixie Round-up since she was a little girl and always dreamed of being their Rodeo Princess. She just started school as a sophomore at Dixie High. Last year Ciara participated in High School Rodeo and played on the undefeated freshman Volleyball team at Dixie Middle School. She is excited again to be participating in High School Rodeo this year, representing Dixie High School. Ciara has ridden horses from the time she could sit up straight and has actively participated in Horse 4-H since she was 8 years old. She has won many awards and represented the Dixie 4-H clubs at Region and State levels for several years, winning at Horsemanship and speed shows. She loves to work and train her horses for all the events she competes in. She barrel races, pole bends, goat ties, team and breakaway ropes, and in addition, she competes annually in the Dixie Jr. Livestock show. This year her hog won Grand Champion. She has also won numerous blue ribbons showing lambs. Of all her activities this past year, the highlight has been reigning as the Dixie Roundup Princess.

"Being the Lion's Princess has been the thrill of a lifetime; however, there is no way I could have ever accomplished my goals without the love and support of my parents and grandparents and all of the help that the Rodeo Committee gave. Thank you, Natalie, and your team for the encouragement you gave and the smiles and laughs of friendship we all shared during the competition. Thanks for putting the extra effort into everything you did to make the competition a success! Also thanks to Gai Bowler for the extra time spent in coaching me and to Rita Brown for all the time she spent in making the perfect clothes to help us shine. Thanks to Mark at Colorland Photo for his patience in getting "just the right picture," and to the Lion's, for without their hard work and the tradition of the Roundup, I wouldn't have had my Princess dream to pursue. Thank you Lion's for making me feel like a part of the family, and treating me like a princess.

My parents, family and friends are awesome. Everywhere I went to promote the rodeo they were there to make sure things went smoothly and to cheer me on. To my Queen, Stephanie, thank you for being the fun-loving person you are. It is great to get to know you and ride beside you through all that we did this past summer, traveling to the parades and rodeos. I just want to say to all the contestants 'Good Luck' and enjoy the 72nd annual Lion's Dixie Roundup."

THE PRCA'S CIRCUIT SYSTEM

While some full-time rodeo cowboys bask in the glory of large arenas, most members of the Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association are circuit cowboys.

For the circuit cowboy, rodeo is something that follows a 40-hour work week. When the weekend hits, he loads up his horses or equipment and heads down the road, usually no more than a few hundred miles, to a PRCA rodeo.

That's not to say these competitors are any less serious about their sport than their marquee counterparts. But their families or professional obligations require them to stick close to home for most of the year.

In 1975, the PRCA recognized the need for an award system for these cowboys who might never qualify for the National Finals Rodeo.

To fill the void, the Association created the Circuit System, which is composed of 12 geographic regions encompassing as few as one state, such as Texas or Montana, to as many as 13 states, as in the Fires Frontier Circuit.

Every PRCA cowboy in the United States chooses a home circuit at the beginning of each year. If a cowboy fails to select a home circuit, the PRCA automatically assigns him to the circuit that corresponds to his home address.

Circuit System cowboys compete for points throughout the year; those points earned within their circuits count toward their place in the circuit and world standings. However, points accrued at rodeos outside their circuits count only toward world standings, not circuit standings.

Each circuit's top cowboys in each event qualify for one of the PRCA's most prestigious events.

The Dodge National Circuit Finals Rodeo (DNCFR) is the crowning event of the PRCA's Circuit System. National circuit champions are determined at the event, which takes place each March in Pocatello, Idaho.

All PRCA cowboys are eligible to compete at the circuit level, and circuit-level cowboys are eligible to compete nationally. The DNCFR pits cowboys from throughout the country in the elimination-style format.

The DNCFR contestants all start out equal. During the four-day rodeo, contestants competed for nearly 450,000 and national circuit titles. Each year, ESPN 2 televises the final round of the DNCFR.

The Wrangler National Finals Rodeo is the premier event in rodeo, and the contestants who make it to Las Vegas often get the majority of rodeo headlines. Yet, there are many top cowboys and cowgirls who never make it to Las Vegas. The reasons are as varied as the contestants, but for most, the responsibilities of home, jobs or businesses keep them tied to a specific geographic location.

In other words, not everyone can, or wants to, travel thousands of miles each year for a chance at a gold buckle, but they still want to rodeo. And those who don't want the travel strains make up the majority of the Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association membership.

Enter the Dodge National Circuit Finals Rodeo. First established specifically with these athletes in mind, the PRCA, in 1975, created a system that breaks up the United States in to 12 circuits. The circuits can include as few as one state, such as the California, Texas or Montana Circuits, to as many as 13 states, such as the First Frontier Circuit, which covers the northeastern part of the country. In 1987, the DNCFR was incorporated, and Dodge became the title sponsor of all 12 circuit divisions. As the regular season ends, top competitors from each event are invited to their circuits finals rodeos. Dodge Circuit Finals Rodeo champions and year-end winners from each circuit are then invited to Pocatello, Idaho, to vie for Dodge National Circuit Finals Rodeo championships.

Contestants compete for points throughout the year, and the points earned within their circuit are applied towards his or her place in the circuit standings, as well as the world standings. However, points accumulated outside the chosen circuit are only applied toward world standings, and money earned at the Dodge National Circuit Finals Rodeo does not count toward world standings.

Qualifiers compete at the elimination-style event to determine the national circuit champions in each event. The tournament-style competition produces exciting challenges for the athletes and vivid entertainment for the fans. Each contestant will compete in two preliminary rounds. The top eight contestants from each event advance to the final round or Wrangler Round, a sudden-death competition that determines the national circuit champion in each event. Each contestant begins with a clean slate in the Wrangler Round, ensuring an equal opportunity for each cowboy or cowgirl to claim a DNCRF title.

The BAR T RODEO INC. STOCK CONTRACTOR

The Bar T Rodeo Inc., was started in 1948, by D.A. (Swanny) Kerby when the Association was called RCA Rodeo Cowboys Association. Swanny along with his son Bud Kerby and their families have been in the Stock Contracting and Rodeo Producing Business ever since.

In 1995 Bud and his wife Evelyn bought out Swanny and Verda; however the Kerbys are still involved with the business as much as possible, allowing them to relax when they feel like it in their older age. The Kirby's have prided themselves on doing fast professional rodeos with the best bucking horses and bulls available for over 45 years. They have won numerous awards to show for their efforts, such as, the Top Bareback Horse in the World in 1976, Ol Alley Cat, the Third Best Saddle Bronc Horse in the World in 1988, R5 Deception, and the second Best Saddle Bronc horse in the World in 1991, Cl Copenhagen Sparrow. The Bar T has won several other awards, such as, the Third Best Saddle Bronc Horse at the NFR in 1989, R14 Skoal's Reception, and the Number One Saddle Bronc Horse at the NFR in 1990, Cl Copenhagen Sparrow. They have also won numerous other awards at the National Finals Rodeo, bring home many award buckles and thousands of dollars in top stock awards. In 1978 The Bar T Rodeo Company started their own bucking horse breeding program that has since proven to be very effective at producing top Bareback and Saddle bronc horses, many of which have gone to the NFR. The Bar T Rodeo Company has taken stock to the NFR since the very first one 33 Years ago in Dallas, Texas. They have been coming to St. George's Lions Dixie Round-Up for years. They also have participated in many other of the top PRCA Rodeos, such as The Denver Stock Show and Rodeo in Denver, Colorado, The Houston Live-Stock Show and Rodeo in Houston, and The Day's of '47 Rodeo, in Salt Lake City. The Bar T Rodeo Company Incorporated in 1989 to become The Bar T Rodeo Inc.

Miss Rodeo Utah 2006 Cami Cushing

Representing the Beehive State, the Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association, and cowboys and cowgirls alike is Miss Rodeo Utah 2006, Cami Cushing. A native of Sandy, this 23 year old blonde has an inborn fondness for the Western way of life. Raised on the back of a horse, her beauty shines inside the arena, on television screens, and is felt through her enthusiastic delivery on local radio stations.

In spite of a diligent schedule that is a true balancing act between rodeo, family, school, and work, she remains selfless and always has time for a rodeo fan or a small child that needs an autograph. Available for PR, awards ceremonies, interviews, or a local drawing, her mere presence demands attention and will gain the respect of contestants, rodeo committees and sponsors, not to mention rodeo enthusiasts of all ages.

Not only will Cami be traveling throughout the State of Utah, she will be traveling to Cheyenne Frontier Days, Rodeo Houston, Reno Rodeo, National Finals Rodeo and the Miss Rodeo America pageant in glamorous Las Vegas.

In Cami's words, "Life is too short to be surrounded by strangers." So friends, do yourselves a favor, say hello and shake her hand because the lady you are preparing to meet will leave you with a smile on your face and a warm spot in your heart no matter how many trails you travel.

St. George, Utah's own Kirk Bastian, better known as the Flagjumper, began his skydiving career in 1970. He has been on the PRCA Rodeo circuit since 1999. Patriotism inspired by the western flavor of red, white and blue is a natural for Kirk.

His obvious pride in our country, our Flag, and his heritage is evident in every display of the American Flag by parachute. After a short free fall from about 4,500 feet above the ground, Kirk deploys the main canopy. After he is sure that all is flying well, he lowers the American flag to fly behind him, and share this beautiful event with the spectators. This graceful "flying flag ballet" is choreographed to the music of our "National Anthem", Lee Greenwood's "God Bless the USA" or other patriotic favorites. After a soft landing in the center of the arena, the flag is quickly picked up and paid the respect it justly deserves.

Kirk is fortunate to share this amazing Giant American Flag at many rodeos, races, movies and outdoor sporting events.

With 8,000 jumps reflected in his resume, Kirk is a USPA licensed professional Skydiver and a member of SAG.

In Kirk's own words, "What could be more fitting in an opening ceremony than the public display of this great American tradition?" Watch for him and "Old Glory" at a special outdoor event soon.

Utah's oldest local bank is also Utah's only local bank with statewide service.

You want to be able to work face-to-face with someone at your neighborhood bank.

That's why the people in your local Zions Bank branch have the power to make decisions without checking with headquarters. That's important to us because we know it's important to you.

• Branches in grocery stores have extended hours so you'll have someone at the bank to serve you in the evenings and on Saturdays.

• A statewide network of neighborhood branches and ATMs. So, you're never far from a little extra cash.

• 24-hour telephone banking and one of the best online banking services available. So you can bank however it's most convenient for you.

Meeting your financial needs through personal service and easy access to your money is what Zions Bank is all about. It's what we mean when we say, we haven't forgotten who keeps us in business.™

2006 Lions Club Scholarship Recipients

Samantha Larson

My name is Samantha Larson. I would like to thank you for the educational opportunities that your scholarships provide. I am extremely honored to be a recipient of this award. This fall I will be a freshman at Dixie State College and plan to major in either Accounting or Communications. I hope to be able to give back to the community when I complete my education and pursue a career here in Southern Utah. This scholarship will help me achieve my life time goals. Thank you for your generosity.

Kristen
Finch

My name is Caden Hall. Thank you, St. George Lions Club, for awarding me with a scholarship to help further my education. I appreciate your generous donation which will be used for my schooling at Dixie State College. I'm honored to have been chosen for this scholarship and thank you for giving to the community and for helping other students fulfill their dreams for higher education.

Caden Russel Hall

My name is Kristen Finch. I wish to express my gratitude for the very generous amount given to me to put toward my tuition. After attending Dixie State College for two years and gaining my Associate's degree in Elementary Education, I hope to attend Utah State University to complete my Bachelor degree. Thank you for helping me accomplish my dream of being an elementary school teacher.

RANDEE MUNNS

Rodeo Clown • Barrelman

Randee Munns has been clowning rodeos for over 20 years throughout the United States. He is from Garland, Utah, where he has a ranch and horse training operation. Randee is also a brand inspector for the state of Utah, as well as a vocational welding instructor for Bridgerland Area Vocational Center in Logan, Utah. Randee will bring several unique comedy acts, along with his expertise as a bullfighter and barrelman.

"The protector of cowboy, the entertainer of the crowd," so said a well-known sports commentator. He was referring, of course, to the rodeo clown. Rodeo clowns come in all shapes and sizes and all have to be top-notch athletes in peak physical condition. They have to be agile, quick, fearless, have the memory of a computer and an encyclopedia knowledge of bulls.

There are basically two types of clowns: the bull fighter and the barrelman. They both have serious jobs to do with a little flair of comedy thrown in. The bullfighter clowns are the track stars. They are out in the arena to distract the unpredictable bull from a downfallen cowboy. Pick-up men on horseback can't be used around the ill-tempered bulls.

The other type of rodeo clown is the barrelman. He uses himself and his barrel as a diversionary obstacle. He hauls a heavy, battered, reinforced metal barrel around, and folds himself inside like an accordion. Once inside the barrel, he awaits the blows of the irate bull and sometimes receives an unwelcome horn or hoof inside with him.

~ RODEO HISTORY ~

It is believed that rodeo was born in 1864 when two groups of cowboys from neighboring ranches met in Deer Trail, Colorado to settle an argument over who was the best at performing everyday ranching tasks.

That gathering is considered to be the first rodeo and it started the evolution of the true American sport.

Through these daily chores, the sport of rodeo evolved. It can be said that rodeo is the only sport derived from an industry and probably the only one that ever will.

Today's professional rodeo cowboy is a bit different from his predecessor from the 1800's, but the ideals and showmanship of long ago are still valued by today's competitors.

Now the cowboy travels much of the time in custom-made rigs or flies from one rodeo to another either by commercial airline or charter plane. Marketing and business acumen have become as crucial as roping, wrestling or riding skills. Cowboys are competing for more money than ever before.

Even if a PRCA member doesn't have the inclination to spend more than 200 days a year on the road in search of a berth in the Wrangler National Finals Rodeo -- the sport's Super Bowl -- he can participate in rodeos close to home each year.

Many of these weekend warriors and those chasing world titles take their wives and children along whenever possible, helping to keep the sport close to its family-oriented roots.

SADDLE BRONC RIDING

Saddle bronc riding is rodeo's classic event, both a complement and contrast to the wilder spectacles of bareback riding and bull riding.

Bronc riding requires strength to be sure, but the event also demands style, grace and precise timing.

Saddle bronc riding evolved from the task of breaking and training horses to work the cattle ranches of the Old West.

Many cowboys claim riding saddle broncs is the toughest rodeo event to master because of the technical skills necessary for success.

Every Move the bronc rider makes must be synchronized with the movement of the Horse. The cowboy's objective is a fluid ride, somewhat in contrast to the wilder and less-controlled rides of bareback riders.

Among the similarities shared by saddle bronc riding and bareback riding is the rule that riders in both events must mark out their horses on the first jump from the chute.

To properly mark out his horse, the saddle bronc rider must have both heels touching the animal above the point of its shoulders when it makes the first jump from the chute. If the rider misses his mark, he receives no score.

While a bareback rider has a rigging to hold onto, the saddle bronc rider has only a thick rein attached to his horse's halter. Using one hand, the cowboy tries to stay securely seated in his saddle. If he touches any part of the horse or his own body with the free hand, he is disqualified.

Judges score the horse's bucking action, the cowboy's control of the horse and the cowboy's spurring action. While striving to keep his toes turned outward, the rider spurs from the points of the horse's shoulders to the back of the saddle. To score well, the rider must maintain that action throughout the eight-second ride.

While the bucking ability of the horse is quite naturally built into the scoring system, a smooth, rhythmic ride is sure to score better than a wild, uncontrolled effort.

STEER WRESTLING

Speed and strength are the name of the game in steer wrestling. In fact, with a world record sitting at 2.4 seconds, steer wrestling is the quickest event in rodeo.

The objective of the steer wrestler, or "bulldogger," is to use strength and technique to wrestle a steer to the ground as quickly as possible.

That sounds simple enough.

But there's a catch: the steer generally weighs more than twice as much as the cowboy and, at the time the two come together, they're often traveling at 30 miles per hour.

Speed and precision, the two most important ingredients in steer wrestling, make bulldogging one of rodeo's most challenging events.

As with calf ropers and team ropers, the bulldogger starts on horseback in a box. A breakaway rope barrier is attached to the steer a head start that is determined by the size of the arena. When the steer reaches the advantage point, the barrier is released and the bulldogger takes off in pursuit. If the bulldogger breaks the barrier before the steer reaches the head start, a 10-second penalty is assessed.

In addition to strength, two other skills critical to success in steer wrestling are timing and balance.

When the cowboy reaches the steer, he slides down the right side of his galloping horse, hooks the right arm around the steer's right horn, grasps the left horn with his left hand and, using strength and leverage, slows the animal and wrestles it to the ground. His work isn't complete until the steer is on its side with all four feet pointing the same direction. But that's still not all there is to it.

In order to catch the sprinting steer, the cowboy uses a "hazer," another mounted cowboy who gallops his horse along the right side of the steer and keeps it from veering away from the bulldogger.

The efforts of the hazer can be as important as those of the steer wrestler. For that reason, and the fact a hazer sometimes supplies the bulldogger a horse, the hazer often receives a fourth of the payoff.

TEAM ROPING

Team roping, the only true team event in professional rodeo, requires close cooperation and timing between two highly skilled ropers - a header and a heeler.

The event originated on ranches when cowboys needed to treat or brand large steers and the task provided too difficult for one man.

The key to success? Hard work and endless practice. Team roping partners must perfect their timing, both as a team and with their horses.

Similar to calf ropers and steer wrestlers, team ropers start from the boxes of each side of the chute from which the steer enters the arena.

The steer gets a head start determined by the length of the arena.

One end of a breakaway barrier is attached to the steer then stretched across the open end of the header's box.

When the steer reaches its advantage point, the barrier is released and the header takes off in pursuit, with the heeler trailing slightly further behind. If the header breaks the barrier before the steer completes its head start, the ropers are assessed a 10-second penalty. Some rodeos use heeler barriers, too.

The header ropes first and must make one of three legal catches on the steer - around both horns, around one horn and the head, or around the neck. Any other catch by the header is considered illegal and the team is disqualified.

After the header makes his catch, he turns the steer to the left and exposes the steer's hind legs to the heeler. The heeler then attempts to rope both hind legs. If he catches only one foot, the team is assessed a five-second penalty.

After the cowboys catch the steer, the clock is stopped when there is no slac in their ropes and their horses face one another.

Another aspect vital to the event is the type of horses used by the ropers. The American Quarter Horse is the most popular among all timed-event competitors, particularly team ropers. Heading horses generally are taller and heavier because they need the power to turn the steer after it is roped. Heeling horses are quick and agile, enabling them to better follow the steer and react to its moves.

BAREBACK RIDING

Bareback riding is a tough way to make a living!

It's a difficult event to do correctly, and, even when you do, you can expect to be punished.

Most cowboys agree that bareback riding is the most physically demanding event in rodeo taking an immense toll on the cowboy's body.

Muscles are stretched to the limit, joints are pulled and pounded mercilessly, and ligaments are strained and frequently rearranged. The strength of bareback broncs is exceptional, and challenging them is often costly.

Bareback riders endure more abuse, suffer more injuries and carry away more long-term damage than all other rodeo cowboys.

To stay aboard the horse, a bareback rider uses a rigging made of leather and constructed to meet PRCA safety specifications. The rigging, which resembles a suitcase handle on a strap, is placed atop the horse's withers and secured with a cinch.

As the bronc and rider burst from the chute, the rider has to "mark out" his horse. In other words, he must have both spurs touching the horse's shoulders until the horse's feet hit the ground after its initial move from the chute. If the cowboy fails to do this he is disqualified.

As the bronc bucks, the rider pulls his knees up, dragging his spurs up the horse's. As the horse descends, the cowboy straightens his legs, returning his spurs over the point of the horse's shoulders in anticipation of the next jump.

But it takes more than sheer strength to make a qualified ride and earn a money-winning score. A bareback rider is judged on his spurring technique, the degree to which his toes remain turned out while he is spurring and his "exposure," or willingness to take whatever might come during his ride.

It's a tough way to make a living, all right. But, according to bareback riders, it's the cowboy way.

TIE-DOWN ROPING

As with saddle bronc riding and team roping, the roots of calf roping can be traced back to the working ranches of the Old West.

When calves were sick or injured, cowboys had to rope and immobilize them quickly for veterinary treatment. Ranch hands prided themselves on the speed with which they could rope and tie calves, and they soon turned their work into informal contests.

As the sport matured, being a good horseman and a fast sprinter became as important to the competitive calf roper as being quick and accurate with a rope.

In modern rodeo, the mounted cowboy starts from a box, a three-sided fenced area adjacent to the chute holding the calf. The fourth side of the box opens into the arena. The calf receives a head start that is determined by the length of the arena. One end of a brakaway rope barrier is looped around the calf's neck and stretched across the open end of the box. When the calf reaches its advantage point, the barrier is released. If the roper breaks the barrier before the calf reaches its head start, the cowboy is assessed a 10-second penalty.

The horse is trained to come to a stop as soon as the cowboy throws his loop and catches the calf. The cowboy then dismounts, sprints to his catch and throws it by hand, a maneuver called flanking. If the calf is not standing when the cowboy reaches it, he must allow the calf to get back on its feet, then flank it. After the calf is flanked, the roper ties any three legs together with a pigging string - a short, looped rope he clenches in his teeth during the run.

While the contestant is accomplishing all of that, his horse must pull back hard enough to eliminate any slack in the rope, but not so hard as to drag the calf.

When the roper finishes tying the calf, he throws his hands in the air as a signal that the run is completed. The roper then mounts his horse, rides forward to create slack in the rope, then waits six seconds to see if the calf remains tied. If the calf kicks free, the roper receives no time.

BULL RIDING

Rodeo competition, in the beginning, was a natural extension of the daily challenges cowboys confronted on the ranch- roping calves and breaking broncs to be ridden.

But intentionally climbing on the back of a 2000 pound bull? There is nothing natural about that. Most people, in fact, consider that a fool-hearted act.

The risks are obvious. Serious injury is always a possibility for those fearless enough to sit astride an animal that weighs a tone and is usually equipped with dangerous horns.

But cowboys do it, fans love it and bull riding ranks as one of rodeo's most popular events.

Bull riding is dangerous and predictably exciting, demanding intense physical prowess, supreme mental toughness and courage.

Like bareback and saddle bronc riders, the bull rider may use only one hand to stay aboard during the eight-second ride. If he touches the bull or himself with his free hand, he receives no score. But unlike the other roughstock events, bull riders are not required to mark out their animals. While spurring a bull can add to the cowboy's score, riders are commonly judged on their ability to stay aboard the twisting, bucking mass of muscle.

Balance, flexibility, coordination, quick reflexes and, perhaps above all, a good mental attitude are the stuff good bull rider are made of.

To stay aboard the bull, a rider uses a flat braided rope, which is wrapped around the bull's chest just behind the front legs and over its withers. One end of the bull rope, called the tail, is threaded through a loop on the other end and tightened around the bull. The rider then wraps the tail around his hand, sometimes weaving it through his fingers to further secure his grip.

Then he nods his head, the chute gate swings open and he and the bull explode into the arena.

Every bull is unique in its bucking habits. A bull may dart to the left, then to the right, then rear back. Some spin, or continuously circle in one spot in the arena. Others add jumps or kicks to their spins, while others might jump and kick in a straight line, or move side to side while bucking.
